Product design files and brand

The supplier and its affiliates, subcontractors and employees may not use or allow others to use the buyer's product design files, technical specifications, artwork, graphical files or brand name to manufacture products for its own sales, or for other customers (domestic or international). All such documents are to be used exclusively for the execution of Buyer's order.

Remarks

1. Product quantity is specified in the proforma invoice and may vary between orders
2. Source image is provided by buyer, processed by supplier into a layout and approved in writing by buyer.

Quality Assurance & Product Compliance

Quality Inspections

1. The buyer is allowed to book quality inspections during and/or after production, using its own employees or a third-party agency selected by the buyer.
2. The products should be available for quality inspection at this address: Office No. 11, 3rd Floor, Central Plaza Barkat Market, New Garden Town Lahore-Pakistan.

Laboratory Testing

1. The buyer is allowed to collect samples in the production facility and submit them to a third-party testing company, to ensure that the products are manufactured in compliance with all relevant product standards, substance restrictions and other regulations specified in this document and/or the attachments.
2. A failed test result classifies all products (100%) as critical defectives, in which case the supplier must either remake the products or refund the payment.

Defective Products

a. Accepted Defect Rate

Class	Accepted Defect Rate	Classification
Minor Defect	1.0%	Minor issues that can be corrected by the buyer. This includes minor marks or scratches on the box, folded paper inserts, dirt that can be cleaned.
Major Defect	0.6%	Serious quality issues that force the buyer to discard the product. This includes visible damages and general non-compliance with the design and technical requirements like glass globes size and Brown Box Dimensions that are demonstrated in the product specification file.
Critical Defect	0%	Severe quality issues that render the product hazardous and/or illegal in the target market. This includes non-compliance with all specified regulations.

See Quality Bar from the Product Specification for some specific examples.

b. Subcontracting

Subcontracting the order to another supplier classifies all products (100%) as critical defectives, in which case the supplier must either remake the products or refund the payment.

c. Compensation Terms

If the number of defect units exceeds the amount specified in this document, the supplier must remake the products within 30 days, or issue a full refund to the buyer's bank account within 7 days.

d. Refund Order Compensation Terms

The supplier agrees to compensate for any items with manufacturing or packaging defects, including broken globes, broken tubes within the globes, water leakage caused by pinholes, bubbles in the glass, permanent marks on the glass globes, or improperly sprayed or colored rainbow effects. These defective items will be provided at no additional cost in the subsequent order by the supplier.
